PARALYZED RESULT

PASO PLANT PULLED
SWITCHES AND QUIT

EL PASO, Feb. 28.—(P)—A truce was agreed upon today in a power strike that paralyzed private and public business for more than 12 hours in El Paso and 27 surrounding towns.

Resumption of the vital services—water pumping, sewage disposal, street cars and elevators—for an area of 200,000 population was expected by 2 p. m. (M. S. T.), allowing two hours for the re-opening of the El Paso Electric Co. plant.

A board of five was chosen to consider a settlement of the strike but its conclusions will not be binding either on the employer or employees.

EL PASO, Feb. 28.—(P)—A paralysis of power—stopping the wheels of commerce, street cars, elevators and municipal water pumps for 200,000 persons—struck this city and 27 outlying towns today as strikers walked out of the El Paso Electric Company and formed a web of picket lines.

Thirty-six strikers began picketing the power plant near the Rio Grande river while the remainder of an estimated 150 who threw down their tools began a series of negotiations with the employers. First peace efforts, however, were fruitless.

In nearby New Mexico, Gov. Clyde Tingley was appealed to for assistance by citizens of Las Cruces, where a serious sewage problem was threatened.

The New Mexico governor canvassed the situation by telephone from Santa Fe.

Strike spokesmen rejected the services of Edwin A. Elliott, regional representative of the national labor relations board "until we are recognized and then we'll

Honolulu Scene
Severe Floods;
Four Drowned

HONOLULU, Feb. 28.—(P)—National guardsmen patrolled flooded areas of Honolulu today to prevent looting of homes damaged after a cloudburst drowned at least four residents of Oahu Island.

The torrential rainstorm struck Honolulu late yesterday evening, bringing lightning and hail to the tropical island. Streets in lower sections of the city were turned into rivers.

Flooded streams drowned four persons in the village of Waiawa. Four others were reported missing along River street in Honolulu's picturesque Chinatown.

Rich sugar fields were inundated to depth of four and five feet.

BATTLE DECISION IN INDUSTRIAL CONTROLIF SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS
LABOR CLAUSE RULING
NRA RUINED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(P)—The new deal marshaled its legal forces today to ward off a blow which—if it should gain the added strength of supreme court approval—would topple much of NRA's vast structure into the dust.

The blow was the opinion, enunciated by Federal Judge John P. Nields of Delaware yesterday, that the constitution did not confer upon congress the power to regulate manufacture.

It was reinforced by the ruling of Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson at Louisville, Ky., who declared that coal mining is an interstate business, that intrastate business is beyond the regulatory power of congress; and that therefore the National Industrial Recovery Act as applied to coal is unconstitutional.

Much of the new deal is based on the idea that if a business affects commerce between the states, congress can regulate it. But that view met an obstacle in Judge Nields' flat statement that manufacture is not subject to such regulation.

HENRY FORD SEES

FUTURE FOR LABORWRITES LABOR FEDERATION
VICE PRESIDENT THAT HIS IDEAS UNCHANGED

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—(P)—Henry Ford, in a letter to Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, predicts wages will reach higher levels than ever because of experienced and far-sighted industrial management.

Woll, in making public the letter, said it was written in response to one written by him saying many leading industrialists were starting a movement against high wages.

Ford wrote that he had "in nowise changed my mind" about the desirability of high wages, and said:

"I believe that wages will continue to go higher not as a result of politics or from purely humanitarian motives, but as a result of the kind of management that will be needed to run the world's industry."

"You understand, of course, that inexperienced or shortsighted management does not create the conditions under which men can earn more."

"In my opinion, absentee ownership in industry is one of the chief obstacles to higher wages;

Long Says Will Run for Governor
Louisiana 1936

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 28.—(P)—Senator Huey P. Long announced today that he would be a candidate for governor in 1936.

Long made the statement as the house of representatives, in special session, was rushing to ward final passage a new batch of bills he dumped in the legislative hopper Tuesday night.

"It'd be fine to be governor of a state like this," he said smiling broadly. "I think I'll be a candidate in 1936. Why, this state's got $1,500,000 in the bank. I'm going to run for governor."

"What about the presidency?" he was asked. "Aren't you going to run for that?"

"That comes later," Long said, smiling broadly.

CLASSIFICATION OF PROPERTY FOR TAX
PURPOSES FAVOREDTIED TO CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT EXEMPT HOME-
STEADS FROM TAXATION

AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—(P)—Classification of property for tax purpose was tied to a constitutional amendment to exempt $3,000 of the assessed valuation of residence homesteads from all taxation by an overwhelming vote in the house today.

Adherents of property classification defeated at the last general election despite strong support from Governor James V. Allred, said the move would insure its adoption if submitted to popular vote.

The amendment was adopted 110 to 23 over protests of those who urged it be submitted as an independent proposition and not be attached as a rider on the homestead exemption amendment.

It would provide that taxes on real property be equal and uniform but authorize the legislature to classify other property and tax it at varying rates.

The classification plan drew strong support from members of the house anti-sales tax bloc who feared exemption on homesteads without a specific provision for raising additional revenue would lead inevitably to a sales tax. They wanted off a motion to delay action on the rider until tomorrow.

Final action on the revised amendment was put off until tomorrow. Pending on adjournment was a proposal by Representative Charles Tennyson of Wichita Falls to exclude common and independent school districts from the exemption. Tennyson said the homestead exemption would so reduce revenues that it would be necessary to shorten terms by four months. He added that if other revenues were raised school

Claim-Hamilton
Surrounded Near Peeltown Today

KAUFMAN, Feb. 28.—(P)—A report that the outlaw Raymond Hamilton had been seen in the tiny village of Peeltown, 25 miles south of Kaufman, this afternoon caused all available officers to rush there in hope of capturing him.

The country around Peeltown is rather wild and part of it is in the bottom of a Trinity river fork. Peeltown has only two stores and a few other buildings.

Officers from Terrell, armed with a machine gun, were on their way to the village.

TERRELL, Feb. 28.—(P)—Terrell officers were informed this afternoon that the death-house fugitive, Raymond Hamilton, had been surrounded in the wild country near Peeltown, 25 miles south of Terrell.

All available officers, taking with them a machine gun, rushed to the aid of other officers reported at the scene.

PIPELINE TO NORTH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(P)—"Better co-operation" between federal, state and local governments in taxation and other fields was urged today by President Roosevelt in a message to the second interstate assembly of the American Legislators' Association.

"It is apparent, I think, to all students of government that there is urgent need for better machinery of co-operation between federal, state and local governments in many fields," the president wrote.

"Both the congress and the executive departments of the national government are constantly confronted with problems whose solution requires co-ordinated effort on the part of the states and the federal government."

"Two notable instances are the co-ordination of law enforcement and the inter-relationship of fields of taxation. This latter question has long seemed to me one of prime importance."

Only recently I directed the secretary of the treasury to undertake a study of source of taxation with particular reference to the matter of conflict or overlapping of federal, state and local taxation. When this study is complete it should furnish the basis of discussion of the problem in

HOUSE AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE TOLD OF CATTLEMEN'S WANTSUNALTERABLY OPPOSED TO COMPULSORY AGRICULTURE
PRODUCTS CONTROL

By GEORGE W. SMITH
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(P)—The house agriculture committee heard the farm administration act and its proposed amendments assailed today as "a flagrant violation of the bill of rights" in statements by prominent Kansas cattlemen.

The committee was told that the Kansas Livestock Association is "unalterably opposed to the compulsory control of agricultural products," and opposed to any proceeding tax on cattle or compensating tax on sheep.

The protest was that of Jim Todd, president of the Kansas Association and a prominent cattle raiser and nationally known breeder and exhibitor of Herefords.

Todd, in a statement filed with the committee, said he appeared as a representative of the association and as an individual producer who handles over 3,000 head of cattle, with breeding herds in Mexico and Mississippi and grazing and feeding plants in Washington county, Kansas.

Todd attributed the Roosevelt victory in Kansas to disgust of farmers' with attempts of the federal government to foist the control of agriculture on the farmers of Kansas, and on account of the promise of Mr. Roosevelt in his Topeka speech that his administration would not interfere with agriculture except for better machinery of themselves demanded it.

The testimony of Chester Davis, farm administrator, in favor of the amendments was analyzed by Todd to show they were proposed to permit "whipping a minority

MANGUM, Okla., Feb. 28.—(P)—Victor Waters, Greer county attorney, said today it was "possible" murder charges would be filed against all the 32 Granite reformatory convicts during whose sensational break Feb. 17, a guard was killed.

"I am going to the reformatory this morning to make a further investigation of the killing of 'Uncle Pete' Jones and if I uncover any new facts it is possible I will file blanket murder charges against all those figuring in the break," Waters said, adding he did not wish to make a definite statement until he had completed the probe.

ALFRED E. SMITH

POLITICAL USE PWASILENCE OF FORMER NEW YORK GOVERNOR TOWARD
ROOSEVELT REGIME BROKEN

By R. L. LIVINGSTONE
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—(P)—The recent silence of former Governor Alfred E. Smith toward the Roosevelt administration was broken today by a denunciatory statement leveled at Secretary Ickes for implied "political" use of PWA authority here.

Smith spoke in behalf of his long-time friend and political protégé, Robert Moses, who now is city park commissioner and chairman of the Triborough bridge authority.

He termed "narrow, political and vindictive" Secretary Ickes' demand for Moses' resignation from one or the other of his jobs under threat of withholding further PWA funds to complete the gigantic $45,000,000 Triborough bridge, which is to link Manhattan, Queens and the Bronx.

Last fall Moses ran for Governor on the republican ticket and conducted a sharp campaign against Governor Herbert Lehman, democrat, later Ickes announced that further bridge funds would be forthcoming until Moses quit one of his jobs as a qualification for administering PWA money.

"I cannot believe," said Smith, "that the President would be a

LIQUOR STORES FOR STATE PROPOSED BY
HENDERSON SOLONOFFERS AMENDMENT TO RE-
PEAL RESOLUTION PEND-
ING LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—(P)—Unanimity of agreement on submission of a prohibition repeal amendment, manifested in a committee was shattered in the Texas senate today with introduction of a substitute calling for a state monopoly system.

Action was delayed, however, as the senate adjourned until tomorrow with the issue pending.

Sharp remarks by advocates of the state store method presaged a bitter fight.

Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson proposed the state liquor dispensary system "to take the profit out of liquor and make certain there would be no return of the open saloon." Hill said that while he had "never voted the wet ticket," he intended to favor substantial of the liquor repeal amendment.

He charged the proposed amendment by Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston did not contain provisions to prevent the turn of saloons.

"I want to test the good faith of the wets," he said, "who want over the country, who want saloons, who want the state store."

Senator Weaver Moore of Houston charged it would be unfair for legislators against repeal to write a repeal amendment. He stated that under Hill's proposal, the people would be asked to issue a referendum on repeal or prohibition but would have only the opportunity to express their preference between prohibition and putting the state in the liquor business.

Moore hurled a challenge at "those who offer this resolution to say they will support it at the polls."

CLOSER CORRELATION BETWEEN VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE AND OTHER SCHOOL WORK IS URGED

By MIKE RINEHART

A closer correlation between the vocational agriculture departments and other departments of the school systems was stressed by Paul G. Haines, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, at a meeting of agriculture teachers and school officials of Navarro and adjoining counties at the State Home Monday night.

"The vocational agriculture departments of many high schools receives considerable criticism," Mr. Haines told the group, "because there is a lack of understanding between the rest of the faculty and the vocational agriculture teacher. In many cases the agriculture teacher is to blame because he sees in his job a chance to back in the limelight of his outside duties and forgets he is an integral part of the school system."

"But this is not true except in rare cases," he stated, "and is a situation that is rapidly being overcome through a closer understanding between the school superintendent and the agriculture teacher when the numerous outside duties of the vocational teacher is taken into consideration."

Sixteen teachers and school officials attended the meeting. A number of school officials from nearby towns had stated they would attend but did not brave the cold to make the trip. E. H. Varnell, supervisor of the North Texas division of vocational agriculture teachers, presided at the meeting.

An example of how an agriculture program may be fitted into the program of a high school in a small town was given by J. G. Willis, superintendent of schools at Italy. Mr. Willis stated that the agriculture teacher, M. D. Lewis, had become not only an important cog in the school machine of his city, but that the effects of teaching the course in the high school was beginning to show definite results in the communities in that trade territory. Special care in preparing records of the projects carried on in classes and by Future Farmers organizations was stressed by Paul Haines. The records of projects should be accurate, whether they show a profit or loss, he explained.

Should Show Weakness. "To many teachers are tempted to show only the desirable results in project records," he said, "but for a project program to be really worthwhile, it should show the weakness of that project. A project is in reality a laboratory experiment and if there is a method used that does not show a profit then it should be given more consideration and publicity than the one that does. In that way we can learn the bad methods and let them alone."

L. J. Young, Kerens, led a discussion on community fairs during the meeting, and D. B. Pitts, Athens, who is in charge of the meetings and contests, appointed a committee composed of G. H. Hurt, C. G. Brock, L. J. Young, and B. J. Cadenhead, to make plans for the district contest which will be held at the State Home in March.

Those attending the meeting were: M. D. Murphy, superintendent of schools, Blooming Grove; G. J. Fry, agriculture teacher, Blooming Grove; L. J. Young, Kerens; M. D. Lewis, Italy; D. A. Mills, principal Kerens high school; J. G. Willis, superintendent of schools, Italy; B. A. Jeffries, principal State Home high school; W. E. Wyle, Eustice; E. J. Cadenhead, Powell; S. L. ## SOCIALISM IN EARLY CHURCH SOMEHOW FAILED TO WORK *

It Early Produced An Ananias and Sapphira, And Jealousy Between Groups---Dramatic Deaths for Liars---The Money Motive In Religion.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Socialism is "in the air." Millions of persons have lately discovered it for the first time. All sorts and varieties of socialistic schemes are today engrossing the thought of whole nations. Many guileless folk believe that these papaeases for problems and poverty are the result of our modern thinking.

As a matter of clear record, socialism has been tried innumerable times throughout the centuries, always without lasting success. The most conspicuous and dramatic instance is that recorded in the present International School Lesson. Ever since socialism could have succeeded, it was in the early church. The first Christians had come out from the world. They were in the grip of a glowing ardor of brotherhood. Christ was so near and real to them that it seemed as if His disciples should be bound together in a new unity, comprehending all aspects of life.

In the first burst of zeal, after Peter's great sermon, they decided to pool their possessions. Every member of the body gave up everything, and the brotherhood had all things in common. It was the purest form of socialism. Behind it lay the mightiest of motives, an over-mastering Christian love. If ever human beings could operate a communistic form of life successfully, it was these first followers of the Christian Way. They could not foresee that the universal Gospel, which, for ages to come, was to reanimate all classes of society throughout the whole earth, could not be tied up to any particular economic or political organization.

An Early Hold-Out
All the force of social sentiment among the Christians was behind the apostolic experiment. Their public opinion constrained all their members to conform. Even those who did not personally approve of this radical new scheme, had to go along, at least outwardly.

But, alas! Human nature was strong among the early Christians, even as it is in the Christians today. The members, Ananias and his wife, Sapphira, wanted the prestige of seeming to be "regular," while at the same time the possessive instinct was so strong in them that, when they turned over the proceeds of the sale of a piece of property to the common fund, they held out a portion for their private use. They wanted to have their cake and eat it, too.

The Great Experiment Cracks
More about that shortly; for the incident is the main theme of our Lesson. Ananias revealed the first crack in the idealistic social structure. The second came a short time afterwards, when strife arose between the Grecian and Hebrew Christians, the former claiming that they were discriminated against in the distribution of the common goods.

For a long time we read nothing more about the experiment in Christian socialism. Then we find the obdurate churches taking up collections for the poor Christians in Jerusalem. Economically, at least, the plan failed. And subsequent Scriptures give no counsel to the Church to attempt the same scheme. The New Testament program for a Christian social order, while plainly condemning the monstrous sins of the feudal and capitalist systems, seems to be based upon individualism—the believer living his life from the new Christian motives, and rendering all possible help to every brother in need.

WILLIAM ERSKINE DIED WICHITA FALLS BE BURIED RICHLAND

Funeral rites for William E. Erskine, aged 78 years, who died in Wichita Falls Tuesday, will be held from the First Methodist church at Richland Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in the Richland cemetery. The rites will be conducted by Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here.

The body arrived in Corsicana Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Markham, Koss, and Mrs. W. H. Wood, Oklahoma, and a brother, N. C. Erskine, Temple. The McCammon and Brown Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

has vastly increased in the world, in the realms of business, of social life and of politics. Dramatically, the Ananias incident warns that God demands "truth in the inward parts."

Money And Religion
As Ananias' name has become a synonym for liars, so the second section of this Lesson gives us the word "simony," after Simon the Pharisee, who wanted to commercialize Christian gifts. "Simony" is the prostitution of religious office for private gain.

The "marring ministers," of Elktion, Maryland, are a good illustration of the perversion of the word and evangelist and paid preacher worker needs to search his soul for the sin of simony.

Robust and penetrating was sturdy Peter's response to the man who sought to buy spiritual gifts. "Thy silver perish with thee!" Would that those words might ever re-echo from the Church's lips, when men are seeking to buy her silence, her endorsement or her offices.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS
Your goody-goody people are the thieves of virtue.—Confucius.

The truth which another man has won from nature or from life is not our truth until we have lived it.—David Starr Jordan.

But whether on the scaffold high, Or in the battle's van; The fittest place where man can die Is where he dies for man.—Michael J. Barry.

Here is the cause of all our evils, our not knowing the Scriptures.—Chrysostom.

The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion.—Proverbs 28:1.

Give unto me, made lowly wise, The spirit of self-sacrifice; The confidence of reason give; And in the light of truth thy bondman let me live.—Wadsworth.

There is not a boy on all the hills of New England; not a girl born in the filthiest cellar which disgraces a capital in Europe, and cries to God against the barbarism of modern civilization; not a boy nor a girl all Christendom through, but their lot is made better by that great book.—Theodore Parker.

DALLAS DEMOCRATS WORRIED OVER SEAT STATE LEGISLATURE

TOO MANY CANDIDATES
MAY BRING REPUBLICAN OR NEGRO REPRESENTATIVE

DALLAS, Feb. 27.—(P)—It was a case of too many Democrats or maybe not enough Republicans and negroes.

There was no question whether one Democrat or even a reasonable number of Democrats, could beat any given number of Republicans and negroes for public office in Dallas county.

But a mathematician among the 73 aspirants for the place of state representatives started dividing the probable Democratic vote in a special election March 16 by big numbers, and comparing the result with the potential Republican and negro vote.

The result don't look so good for the home team. So Paul G. Peurifoy, one of the scores of Democrats, suggested that the affair be taken a little more seriously. There was a broad implication that he thought it was already serious even if some candidates didn't seem to think so.

"Unless something is done immediately," he said, "it is not an impossibility that a Republican or a negro will be elected."

He called for that "something" to be done at a candidates' rally at the courthouse today, offering to withdraw in favor of some strong candidate if most of the others would do so. There was no immediate indication how strong the response would be.

The Republican is John W. Philip, former assistant postmaster general. The negro is A. S. Wells, Dallas attorney.

The legislative place was vacated by Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes who was appointed as Texas' first regular woman district judge.

The League of Women Voters took another route toward the same end by urging legislation that would permit the county committee to name a Democratic nominee.

Farmer Kills Wife and Baby And Then Self

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 27.—(P)—The bullet-torn bodies of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Robbins and their 3-year-old son, Buddy were found in the family's farm home five miles northeast of Wichita Falls today.

Each of the victims had been slain with one shot from a .410 gauge single-barreled shotgun. Each had been shot in the face.

Judge R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, held an inquest at the scene and returned a coroner's verdict of murder and suicide. He found that Robbins had first shot his wife and baby boy and then had taken his own life.

The shotgun was lying near the man's body. All three bodies were in a bedroom and the man, Judge Gwinn decided, apparently had started firing as his wife started to place a coat on the boy. She fell with the coat in her hands.

INQUEST INTO DEATH STATLER HEIRESS IS POSTPONED TODAY

TALENTED YOUNG BRIDE OF FEW WEEKS FOUND UN- CONSCIOUS IN CAR

PINEHURST, S. C., Feb. 28.—(P.) Acting Coroner Hugh Kelly today postponed until this afternoon resumption of the inquest into the mysterious death here of Mrs. H. Bradley Davidson, Jr., talented young heiress of E. M. Statler, of hotel fame.

The inquest, begun yesterday, was adjourned until this morning at the request of Mrs. Statler, the girl's foster mother, who feared for Pinehurst on receipt of news of the death. A train delay caused the additional postponement.

Slumped under the steering wheel of her car, the 22-year-old bride of less than two months was found unconscious by a servant at the Davidson's winter home when he opened the door of the family garage yesterday morning.

Mrs. Davidson, who was graduated from Radcliffe College at the age of 20, never regained consciousness.

The coroner's jury making an investigation from which the public was excluded, was told by Dr. M. W. Marr, the attending physician, carbon monoxide poisoning was the immediate cause of death.

There is an intimation from an authoritative source that the jury was not "satisfied" as to the cause of death and that an autopsy may be ordered.

The jury considered the possibility that in some unexplained manner the heiress met an accidental death, but that sufficient evidence had not yet been gathered to warrant the returning of a verdict.

party to the Ickes order which is narrow, political and vindictive; which breaks a binding contract; and has no basis in sound public policy, and I do not believe that any national administration can afford to withhold needed relief funds from New York City to enforce such an order.

"The whole subject looks ridiculous when you reflect that Bob Moses has been responsible for most of the worthwhile relief projects in New York City in the last year."

"If the mayor (LaGuardia) asserts the city's rights against Ickes in the way the overwhelming majority of the citizens want him to, there will be nothing to this threat."

Considerable interest attached to his words in view of his renewed prominence in Tammany Hall, whose relations with Washington have improved under new leadership.

Meanwhile, with neither Secretary Ickes nor Moses showing any signs of yielding, the bridge argument was at the bottom of each box. Without additional funds from Washington by the middle of March, it was expected he would be unable to meet current demands.

ger with that church.

Rev. B. A. Stevenson came to the United Presbyterian church as pastor last August and during his term here the church has made steady progress. Several new members have been added and the church membership generally revived. He has been assisted in his work here by his wife who is an accomplished musician and church leader.

Rev. Mr. Stevenson said Thursday morning that his plans for the future would be announced soon.

The First Presbyterian church has a membership of 286 and Rev. W. R. Hall is pastor.

The value and disposition of the properties involved in the church merger was not announced.

MAN SAVED FROM CHAIR BY COURT BE- REMOVED TO TYLER

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 28.—(P.) Sheriff R. A. Schmid announced today that Grady Warren, held for safe keeping in the Dallas county jail since October 8 under death sentence, probably will be taken to Tyler within the next few days. Warren was sentenced to die for the killing of E. C. Brown in Smith county December 31, 1933.

His return to Tyler will be necessary because the court of criminal appeals yesterday ordered his conviction set aside and the case dismissed because the trial court refused to quash a faulty indictment. Warren will be reindicted and retried.

matters. A sub-committee revised the bill.

A three-member commission proposed by the bill would have original jurisdiction over rates in all cities. The committee rejected, 7 to 6, an amendment to restrict its powers to other than home rule charter cities.

Rates would be prescribed on the basis of "prudent investment" and the commission could control contracts between Texas companies and out-of-state holding corporations.

Truck Load Bill Killed.

The senate apparently disposed for this session of legislation to increase the legal load limit on motor trucks using state highways by refusing to print on a minority report a bill to raise the limit from 7,000 to 10,000 pounds.

The house had its choice of anti-lobby bills.

A second bill directed at lobbying before the legislature, prepared by Rep. J. Carroll McConnell of Palo Pinto, was reported by the criminal jurisprudence committee so it could be considered along with a bill by Rep. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown. Lobbyists would be registered and restrictions placed on their activities by the bills.

NEW DEAL

In the course of an opinion in which he held Section 7-A of NIRA unconstitutional as applied to the Weirton Steel Company, he said supreme court rulings demonstrated that "the constitution did not give to congress the power to regulate manufacture."

To regulate manufacture, operation as instruments for the interstate movement of goods, he said, would put practically all American manufacturing under the control of the federal government, a result which "has received the unqualified condemnation of the supreme court."

Plans Immediate Appeal.

The government plans an immediate appeal from Judge Dawson's decision. It did not announce its plans on Judge Neida's ruling but Blackwell Smith, counsel for the recovery administration, left no doubt in observers' minds that it would combat the idea expressed by the Delaware judge.

Attorney General Cummings and a staff of lawyers were studying the decision.

Judge Neida's decision was praised by a spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers and denounced by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"We beg God that the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby will be found."

"A great injustice has been done," said Kelly.

The man who is guilty should be hung, drawn and quartered. But that man is not Bruno Richard Hauptmann."

Mrs. Hauptmann brought a message from the death house at Trenton, N. J. She told her hearers that Hauptmann sent his thanks to "all who can feel for us."

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1932, Ed. A. Guest.)

THE FIGHTING SPIRIT

Don't let little fear upset you.
Don't give way to every doubt.
Make old failure fight to get you.
Stand until he knocks you out.
If a better man you're meeting
Do not falter in the test;
To yourself keep on repeating:
"He must beat me at my best."
If you meet a truly bruiser
Give the fellow blow for blow.
Then if you must be the loser
You have been worthy foe.
Though your breath grows short and wheezing:

Fight it out through thick and thin,
But don't ever make it easy
For the other chap to win.

When the battle once is started
Don't too quickly take to flight.
Don't be fearful and half-hearted;
Hit your blows with all your might.
Hold on just a little longer
When you think of giving in.
Though the other chap is stronger,
Make him fight it out to win.

Son, beware the quitting habit,
For increasingly it grows;
In this world which we inhabit
Man encounters many foes.
And though some at times will beat you
Give them all the best you can;
But when stronger rivals meet you,
Let them know they've met a man.

SLOWLY GETTING THERE

Peaceful, law-abiding, self-controlled folk are not a product of definitions of right and wrong. They are the results of breeding, of the process of evolution. The criminal class of today is greatly superior in morality and intellect to the highest type man of the stone age, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that another hundred thousand years will find the lowest class of that future age superior in all ways to the highest type of this.

Society appears to have done its full duty in the matter of reforming mankind. Through a thousand agencies it has defined right and wrong. It can do no more. A man of the highest type the race has developed will not strike his child in the face with a club, nor will he lie in wait and shoot another man who carries a large sum of money.

He may be angry at his child and he may covet money, but he will not beat the one or steal the other. The thing that restrains him is not the knowledge that these things are wrong, but the fact that he is a gentleman—that is, a gentleman instead of a brute man. It is not by an exercise of will that he refrains from doing these evils; he has outgrown the urge to do them.

A man of a lower type who does these things is not ignorant of the fact that he is doing wrong. He does wrong deliberately and in many cases without compunction. He follows the urge of his brute instincts.

COMMERCIAL DIRIGIBLES

If we are going to go on experimenting with dirigibles, public opinion seems to say, let them be commercial craft, not military. In this country, at least, the dirigible as an arm of defense has proved costly without proving it could be of any great use in real warfare.

The one dirigible which appears to have been properly built and wisely operated for seven years is the Graf Zeppelin under the command of Dr. Hugo Eckener. But the Graf Zeppelin is definitely a commercial airship. Another dirigible now being designed in Germany is also planned strictly for commercial use. That places different and more possible requirements on dirigible construction and operation.

Even Secretary Roper ought to have been able to think up a better one than that about the administration defending the country from socialism.

Publishers of a memory strengthening course are again advertising, and should have hundreds of prospects just among alibi witnesses.

Milwaukee now has one tavern for every 170 adults, which is probably conducive to crowded conditions in Milwaukee's taverns.

Weaving in and out of traffic at 80 miles an hour is the practice of young gentlemen with streamlined brows.

Spring! Spring! Beautiful Spring!

LIQUOR LAW EXPERIMENTS

An Iowa editor has been looking about him to see how the liquor problem is handled throughout the country these days. He finds many experiments going on in many states. He believes citizens are generally dissatisfied with the type of control instituted by their legislatures.

"We people here in Iowa trying the experiment of state liquor stores are having trouble with our scheme, but Texas is not satisfied with its plan, and the California legislature is now trying to adopt our plan in place of their plan of licensing retail vendors of liquor. Whatever plan we have, we wish that we had some other plan, so we keep on changing and changing."

Is that the true situation everywhere? Do Americans feel that foreign nations have handled the liquor business better than this country? Does one state do any better with it than the others? Some of the states which were dry before the prohibition era turned wet because they thought prohibition worked badly. Now they find liquor control and public sale do not end their troubles. What is the final solution? While looking for it, it will do no harm to continue the teaching of temperance.

POLITICAL FREEDOM.

During the period from March 15, 1933, to December 31, 1934, the police of Vienna arrested 38,132 persons for political reasons, and searched 106,319 houses. Among those arrested were Nazis, Socialists and Communists.

There are plenty of things wrong with American politics, but we may be thankful that no government or party over here can go in for wholesale arrests to quell opponents, nor for wholesale and unwarranted house-searching for documents or material which might be used to the disadvantage of such opponents. Race prejudices and political intolerances exist here, unfortunately, but they are less effective than elsewhere and so far do not endanger the political freedom of any group or individual. They cannot become dangerous while we hold to our freedoms of assembly, speech and press and other constitutional guarantees.

A $500 meerschaum pipe which a Pasadena man had been coloring for 20 years was taken by burglars, or so his wife says.

LIVELY ARCHIVES.

Some of the records to be preserved in the new National Archives Building near a completion in Washington will be in the form of motion pictures and sound records. There will be pictures of current events, educational pictures such as those made by the Byrd expedition, films made by private companies but having authentic historical background, and so on. Doubtless there will be scientific and technical pictures, and many others.

Among the sound records will be presidential speeches and important statements by high governmental officials. Unfortunately it is too late to go back far to make such historical records. Much as we should like to have sound-and-motion pictures of George Washington or Abraham Lincoln or other American heroes, we'll have to get along without them. Posterity, however, will be able to see present-day statesmen and other great persons move across a screen and to hear excellent reproductions of their voices.

"Archives" are getting more attractive from the laymen's point of view. Printed documents and manuscripts are necessary and will be there, but they are useful chiefly to scholars and historians. Movies and phonograph records are history in a form anyone can understand.

HEALTH INSPECTION PROPOSED CCC CAMP VERY SATISFACTORY

Officials of the Texas Board of Health, making inspection of the site to be used by CCC company to be stationed in Corsicana near Lake Halbert Tuesday and after the survey was completed informed City Engineer W. W. McClendon that the site was entirely satisfactory and there was no danger of any kind from contamination or pollution. Members of the party included R. M. Dixon, L. C. Billings and Edgar Wheeler.

Health conditions of the camp will be closely watched by the State Board of Health and the U. S. Public Health service.

Bilious Attacks

For bilious attacks due to constipation, take Theodor's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. "I have used Black-Draught," writes Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. "There is a package of it on my mantel now. I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. # Cline Is Presented With Loving Cup At Annual C of C Meet

By CHARLTON GUNTER

Communities and individuals should check up on themselves and determine their solvency and if they are "taking out more than they are putting in they are insolvent," Walter D. Cline, director general of the Texas Centennial central exposition told members of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and their guests from over the county at the annual membership meeting in the Corsicana High school auditorium Monday night.

At the conclusion of the address, Mr. Cline was presented with a big silver loving cup by Lowry Martin as a tribute from the citizens of Corsicana to the director general and also to commemorate the inception of the centennial idea in Corsicana more than a decade ago.

Despite sub-freezing temperatures, more than five hundred persons gathered in the auditorium for the annual meeting, with many of them from nearby rural communities. A sufficient number of tickets had been issued to pack the house if weather had not prevented their attendance officials of the chamber reported.

McCammon Presided.

W. P. McCammon, vice-president of the chamber and general chairman of the arrangements, presided at the meeting and present H. W. Richardson, business manager of the First Methodist Church, who led the audience in the singing of "America" with Bill Elliott at the piano. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Bel Cantato quartet composed of D. Martin Thomas, basso, T. K. Johnston, baritone; Marcel Jones, second tenor, and Fred Shelton, first tenor, were presented next in their first program appearance. "Marching Along Together" was their first number with "Old Man River" from "Showboat" as the second, followed by "Nola." In response to the demand of the crowd, the singers presented "Jordan," favorite selection of the principal speaker.

Roberts Makes Report

C. C. Roberts, president of the chamber, was presented and gave his annual report of the activities of the chamber. He called attention to the fact that a very important lesson could be learned from the quartet on the value of harmony, or perfection through unity.

Mr. Roberts declared that the past year was history and the future depended on the expenditure of new energies with more work for more workers. Among the highlights of the year's activities he presented the close cooperation with the national agricultural program and the more than 61,000 calls made on the chamber last year, office space and assistance given the various campaigns, highway activities, and the securing of a CCC camp for soil erosion control work.

He declared that he did not believe the people of the county properly appreciated the work of the county agricultural and home demonstration agents but that they were beginning to awaken to the possibilities.

Mr. Roberts declared that the chamber of commerce had no job of its own but its value came from "doing other's jobs well." He stated that a resume of chamber activities would appear in the Daily Sun along with the account of the annual meeting and paid tribute to the board of directors asserting that each was deserving of praise and appreciation for their co-operation. He also paid tribute to Allin F. Mitchell, secretary-manager, who was credited to the helm of the organization.

Cert. Makes Nominations.

I. N. Cerf, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the report of his group, suggesting seven men to be elected for two year terms. The report was adopted and the following elected directors of the chamber: C. C. Roberts, W. P. McCammon, Lowry Martin, Ted B. Ferguson, J. A. Silverberg, Guy Gibson, and J. O. Burke.

J. N. Edens, treasurer, presented the financial report of the chamber, reporting a balance of $728.92 on hand to start the new year on January 31, 1935.

The Bel Cantato singers were presented in a second group composed of "The Last of the Mohicans," "The Star Spangled Banner," and "The Star Spangled Banner," and complied with an encore request with "O, Susanna."

The presiding officer declared that no community could exist in progressive fashion without a chamber of commerce, and presented the business manager of the Corsicana Daily Sun to introduce the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Martin extended congratulations to the chamber executives and directors on their achievements, and called attention to the inspirational qualities of the annual meetings.

He declared that Corsicana had been the incubator of many worthwhile ideas and the home of many of the leading men in the nation, and that the city was proud to have been the birthplace of the Texas Centennial idea more than a decade ago. He then briefly traced the idea from its inception in Corsicana to its final status with the work now under way on the central exposition in Dallas.

He then introduced the director general as the speaker of the evening.

"Trouble has been sitting close to us and we have been talking to ourselves in recent years," Mr. Cline said in his introductory remarks. He asserted that the people were "cooling themselves in 1928 in 'nigger heaven' using wealth that never existed. Then came the crash, the people were spanked and had their cry, the government started helping them

Centennial Head

WALTER D. CLINE, Director General of the Texas Centennial central exposition was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

It was the only city with fair experience. He said that the financial status had an open end, and that the exposition was "about half out of something to use for money."

He declared that he was going to gamble fourteen million dollars on the belief that it could be regained in about four months showing.

Mr. Cline declared that his attitude toward the Centennial was taken from Noah, his favorite biblical character. He declared that when Noah received the message of impending rains and disaster he believed it and did something about it by making an ark out of gopher wood. He held that the significant fact about the building of the ark was that Noah completed it in the face of the criticism of the "village weather prophet," the "tobacco chewer who said it wouldn't work," and the "foolishness who said it was a disgrace to the community."

He declared however that Noah was justified when the rains finally came and after long wanderings the ark was grounded. He held that Noah proved his humanity by planting a vineyard and getting drunk on the fruits of the first harvest.

Must Follow Example

He declared that people must follow Noah's example and refuse to listen to the critics. In the case of the Centennial, Mr. Cline said that the house had to be constructed in order to do the job and take advantage of the tremendous shifting of population that follows each period of depression.

Mr. Cline said that the centennial offered Texas the greatest opportunity of a lifetime. He declared that the state offered unequalled opportunities to those interested in agriculture, the development of natural resources, service or capital industry, or beauty and climate with all of the cultural advantages of schools, churches, appreciation of arts and sciences, etc., along with a population of less than 22 to the square mile.

"Only men and money for we have everything else, and the Centennial is the best way to end all of the hard years that are passing 'behind us,' Mr. Cline said in conclusion.

At this point a silver loving cup, twenty-eight inches high, was presented to Mr. Cline by Lowry Martin, vice-president of the Centennial commission as a commemorative of the idea for the celebration was born in Corsicana. The cup bore the inscription "Presented to Walter D. Cline, director general, Texas Centennial Central Exposition, from the Citizens of Corsicana where the Texas Centennial Idea Originated and which city was the sparkplug for its realization."

Visibly moved by the offering, Mr. Cline declared that he was afraid of the job, and with the confidence of his friends in his judgment was facing the facts. He pledged his best efforts to the success of the movement with the sincere hope that he would never bring shame or embarrassment to the people of Corsicana and his friends.

As the concluding number on the program, the Bel Cantato Quartet, presented their well-known theme song, "Until the Dawn."

Members of the board of directors occupied places of honor on the stage of the auditorium during the meeting. Members of various camps, farm groups, and other organizations, and ticket takers for the occasion.

Activities Digest.

The following is a resume of the activities sponsored, carried out, and participated in co-operatively by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce during the last fiscal year.

Along with the new deal in the national administration came a new deal for the chamber of commerce through the realization that Corsicana could prosper only as Navarro county and the country surrounding prospered. In surveying the situation the directors found that the county's 1932 cotton crop of 61,000 bales brought only $1,525,000 at 6 cents a pound—not enough to pay the fixed tax charges, much less to purchase the food and clothing needed by the producers and their families. The chamber swung squarely behind the administration agricultural adjustment program and the figures for the past three years show the result in dollars to the county:

1932—$1,525,000.
1933—$4,500,000.
1934—$5,500,000.

The chamber of commerce furnishes advice, water, lights and other utilities, adding machines, mimeograph machines for the county and home demonstration agents and co-operated in the cotton, hog and cow programs in 1934. Approximately 61,000 calls were made at the chamber during the year by persons seeking information on various farm programs and problems.

The federal government spent about $50,000 in Navarro county purchasing distress cattle under the terms of the emergency drought relief program.

The organization aided in securing 12 1/2 acres adjacent to the city for a community garden as a CWA project.

Mr. Cline declared that a change was being made in the yardstick of success and formerly material wealth was the basis of judgment. He asserted that he did not believe a republican form of government could have continued for another twenty years if the nation had continued at the pace set prior to 1929.

Indications of the changing yardsticks, the speaker pointed to the fact that most valuable citizens of communities of new types were being selected with service as the principal reason for acclaim.

"All of the charge-offs and losses are the best investments of our lives if we have returned to the yardstick of service as a measure of success," Mr. Cline said.

Shifting to the Texas Centennial celebration, the director general said that he believed that the exposition should be approached with the idea that while the independence and entity of the state of Texas was secured at San Jacinto it should be remembered that the history of the state started at that time and is being added to by each of the six million inhabitants of the state today.

New President of Chamber Commerce

EARL W. ELLIS, Corsicana Automobile Dealer.

Navarro county history for the high school corridor, along with a life-size painting of Jose Antonio Navarro.

The chamber co-operated in the staging of the New Deal merchandise display and automobile show in March last year that drew thousands of visitors to the city and attracted much favorable mention in other parts of the state.

Approval of the war department on plans for a bridge across the Trinity river on Highway 22 between Corsicana and Palestine was secured, and the bridge is now nearly complete. Numerous delegations have been sent to meetings of the state highway commission at Austin in an effort to complete the system of hard surfaced roads in the county.

On May 10, the chamber staged the "Black Land Belt Recovery Tour" which carried a large number of Corsicana business men on an all day visitation to Powell, Kerens, Trinidad, Malakoff, Athens, Palestine, Fairfield, Teague, Mexico, Wooten and Richland.

Recently the chamber has aided in securing a CCC camp for soil erosion control work in this county, with the prospects that the work will have an important effect on the future of the agricultural program of the county.

The county agent has been carrying heavy responsibilities under the A. A. program of the department of agriculture but has maintained a well balanced extension service program for the county with his assistants and office workers. The chamber has been holding poultry, cattle, hogs, feed crops, community meetings, 4-H club organizations have been given considerable time and attention. An unusually large amount of extension literature has been distributed covering every problem of the farm.

Five one-day schools of terracing were given in different sections of the county and were attended by more than 100 farmers, most of whom have become leaders in running terrace lines in their communities.

EROSION CONTROL FORCES READY TO BEGIN ON PROJECTS

ENGINEERS SEEKING LANDS FOR IMMEDIATE USE IN NAVARRO COUNTY

Advance forces of the department of agriculture field crews made their appearance in Corsicana late Tuesday morning at the preliminary work necessary before soil erosion control work is started in Navarro county by a committee of the Civil Conservation Corps.

B. D. Reynolds, engineering foreman, and Tommy Voss, his assistant, reached Corsicana Tuesday, transferred from similar duties at Boyd in Wise county. Offices were established for them at Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and they began work Wednesday in preparing plans for projects in this county.

Plan of Operation.

In outlining the setup of the forces, Mr. Reynolds pointed out that the work was under the direction of the Emergency Conservation Works division of the department of agriculture and the projects in this county would fall under the head of soil erosion control. The department is charged solely with the work done by the boys in the CCC company to be stationed here about April 1.

Feeding, clothing, clothing of the boys as well as the recreational and educational activities is the responsibility of the military authorities.

Mr. Reynolds declared that he was anxious to contact Navarro county landowners who were ready to start their projects at once in order to line up sufficient projects to keep the company working during the planting and growing seasons. Landowners who have acreage upon which they are ready to start work at once were asked to contact the engineering men at the chamber of commerce within the week, regardless of whether they have listed their lands on the cards prepared by the chamber for those who wish to take advantage of the opportunity.

Time Is Short.

Little time remains for the construction of terraces and contour ditches before the planting season, according to the engineer, and ample co-operation is needed to supply sufficient projects to keep the workers busy during the spring and summer months.

It was again pointed out that projects covering a complete drainage area are not undertaken by the department of agriculture, and it was added that the planning was paid in the plans to property lines, county or state lines.

Mr. Reynolds explained the planning of the projects by stating that at the present time the area was first prepared, and then terrace lines run and stakes set which also includes the checking of old terraces to meet specifications. The contractor then built by the landowner or tenant to the specifications of the department, and then the engineering staff lays out the contour ditches and the work is constructed by the landowner or his representative.

The department of agriculture forces then construct the contour ditches and the planning of the project, with the landowners required only to supply the water for the mixing of the concrete.

Full details of the work may be secured by contacting the representatives at their offices in the chamber of commerce building, and they are especially anxious to contact landowners prepared to start work immediately on their projects.

The camp site for the CCC company has been located near Lake Halbert.

DAMAGE SUIT OF MRS. GOULD TAKES ON ADDED INTEREST

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—(P)—Mrs. Wilma E. Gould's $50,000 damage suit is acquiring an increasingly international flavor—something more definite than the pseudoscience of "Prince Michael Romanoff."

To her previous testimony that she had dined at Monte Carlo with Sir Basil Zarakoff, mystery man of European munitions, and David Lloyd George, the plaintiff added Louis Barthou, assassinated French foreign minister, to the list yesterday.

A witness Irish brogue, the discord of a German band playing under the courtroom windows and a lawyer's speech accent added to the salmagundi.

Not even that, however, could keep "Prince Michael," known to the police as Harry Gerbuson, interested. He was not there to be identified with Mrs. Gould, but to identify her with his brother-in-law, former Representative Norman J. Gould, a lawyer and a detective for conspiracy to have Gerbuson provide the evidence.

American speech came in for attention when D. L. Morris, cross-examined Mrs. Gould, pronounced incorrectly the name of a friend, Mrs. Hughes.

Hughes, not shoes," corrected the witness.

"Pardon me," said the lawyer, "It must have been my New York accent."

"Brooklyn, isn't it?" smiled Mrs. Gould.

BRAZOS RIVER PLAN LAID BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE TODAY

TEXAS REPRESENTATIVES AND A R M Y ENGINEER SAYS CONTROL NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(P)—Three Texas representatives and an army engineer today told the house floor control committee the conditions on the Brazos river in Texas which they said made government aid for flood control necessary.

Witnesses in the hearing on a bill by Representative Johnson (Tex.) to provide $50,000,000 for the project differed on the best method of controlling the floods, the Texas declaring that levees could not be used satisfactorily and Major Somerville of the army engineers explained that levees and dams would meet the need.

Major Somerville estimated the cost of proposed reservoirs would be $78,000,000, while levees could be constructed for $15,000,000.

Representative Buchanan (D-Tex.) opened the hearing by a description of the physical characteristics of the Brazos watershed and outlined the steps Texas already had taken to control floods.

"I have had personal experience there and have tried many times to control the floods but every effort has been a failure," Buchanan said. "I think this is the most important problem facing the government project in the Union, and I hope the committee will report it out and give it an equal chance with any other project to be approved under the relief fund."

Soil Very Rich.

Representative Cross (D-Tex.) told the committee the Brazos watershed contained some of the richest soil in the world, but it hardly pays to try to raise crops there because they are destroyed so often.

Johnson reviewed briefly the conditions existing in the watershed and declared that floods from 1913 to 1929 had caused property loss of $30,000,000 and had taken the lives of 346 persons.

Henry D. Cross, superintendent of the Black Land experiment basin in Central Texas, then gave the committee detailed facts and figures concerning the river over a long period of years. He said that levees which had been constructed had failed to control floods, declared that 3,000,000 acres

OFFICIAL DAUGHTER OF COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN VIOLENCE STARTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(P)—Maj. Albert M. Jones, chief of the intelligence unit of the army, today denied published reports that his 20-year-old daughter, Barbara, had been attacked and beaten in a Communist campaign of violence against officers in the San Francisco Presidio.

The story, as carried in the Examiner today, said the attack occurred on a dim street at the army post after Major Jones had received letters threatening kidnapping or harm to his daughter unless he halted his activities against Communists on the military reservation.

The paper said Capt. Warren J. Clear, the major's assistant and a member of a third officer's family, asserted a woman, who was also waylaid and beaten, Captain Clear declined to affirm or deny the story.

"Any statement will have to come from Major Jones," he said. "I cannot say anything unless he directs me to."

The newspaper said the attacks and the alleged Communist terror were under investigation by the department of justice, and that a report has been forwarded to the army high command at Washington, D. C.

Major Jones admitted he has conducted an intensive drive against subversive radical activities at the army post, but denied knowledge of any attempted retaliation. He termed ridiculous a report that committees of Communists are known to have shadowed and apied upon officers.

of rich land were subject to overflow, stated that the watershed was larger than 18 states and that 35 per cent of the total acreage was in cultivation.

"My personal estimation is that 90 per cent of the watershed below Waco is under cultivation," Dunlavy said.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

NO. 27. Deduction for Tax on Motor Gas.

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure, all of the maintenance and operating expenses connected therewith, which constitute allowable deductions for Federal income-tax purposes, should be apportioned between the two uses on the basis of the time that it is used for each.

For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounts to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction for Federal income-tax purposes would be $600.

If a law which imposes a tax on gasoline shows that the tax is imposed on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for Federal income-tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as required by the law and the regulations.

The Federal gasoline tax imposed by section 617 of the Revenue Act of 1932 as amended is not deductible by the consumer. A taxpayer may ascertain whether the gasoline tax imposed by a state is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes the tax may be added to the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense, but where the tax is on the oil the tax cannot be deducted separately under the item of taxes.

NO. 28. Deduction for Traveling Expenses.

To obtain a deduction for traveling expenses, which form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers, certain regulations must be observed. The taxpayer is required to attach to his return a statement showing the nature of business in which engaged, number of days away from home during the taxable year on account of business, total amount of expense incidental to meals and lodging, and total amount of "other expenses" incident to travel and claimed as a deduction.

Among the "other expenses" are tips, provided they are reasonable in amount.

Traveling expenses are deductible only when the trip is on business and not for pleasure. Suburbanites who commute daily from their homes to their places of business are not permitted to deduct the cost of transportation in being a person's expense.

Claims for deduction for traveling expenses must be substantiated, when required by the commissioner of internal revenue, showing in detail the amount and nature of the expenses incurred.

BILL TO OUTLAW GAMBLING ON HORSE RACING IN TEXAS GIVEN FAVORABLE COMMITTEE REPORT

AUSTIN, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A bill to outlaw gambling on horse racing in Texas for the second time in three weeks today bore a favorable report of a committee of the house of representatives.

At the conclusion of a stormy public hearing, the house committee on state affairs, shortly after midnight, recommended, 10 to 9, with one pair, that the bill by Representative Harry Graves of Georgetown, banning horse race wagering, be passed.

Representative Traylor Russell of Mount Pleasant providing that counties might hold local elections to legalize or prohibit racing within their respective counties. The vote was 11 to 9.

All the tension of a previous hearing before the house committee on criminal jurisprudence was present as proponents and opponents praised or denounced the measure. The committee was in an uproar as the final vote was taken and two clerks were used to verify the tabulation.

Ferguson is Denounced.

Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, who advocated the Russell bill as the best means of clearing the attitude of the people toward horse racing, was bitterly denounced by Representative Graves as one trying to lead members of the committee and the people astray.

The Graves bill had been overwhelmingly reported favorably by the committee on criminal jurisprudence more than two weeks ago, but was referred, by a close vote in the house, to the committee on state affairs.

It was the first appearance of the Russell bill before a committee, and it was the first time that it had been given a hearing, pending before a senate committee.

Critics of horse race wagering, as previous hearings, denounced the state law permitting pari-mutuel wagering as inimical to the business interests of the state, a menace to homes and public morals, and a leaguer with crime and vice. Proponents of the existing law claimed it had benefited business, helped the stock-raising industry and was no evil which repeal would eradicate.

Vote on Graves Bill.

The vote on the Graves bill follows:

Ayes: Harold Beck of Texarkana, Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, Howard C. Davidson of Rotan, Byron England of McKinney, J. B. Ford of McGregor, Harvey C. Jones of Waco, E. E. Keefe of Frankston, Fred Mauritz of Ganado, E. E. Quinn of Beaumont, Al Roark of Saratoga.

Nays: Traylor Russell of Mt. Pleasant, Hall Colson of Iola, E. D. Dunlap of Kingsville, Pat Dwyer of San Antonio, R. H. Good of Cooper, Jesse James of Cameron, E. L. Rodgers of Farnsworth, J. C. Duval of Fort Worth.

Pair: W. W. King of Bronson, voting aye, with Conde R. Hoskins of Gonzales, absent.

The vote on the Russell bill: Ayes: Russell, Colson, Dunlap, Dwyer, Good, James, King, Quinn, Roberts, Spears, Duval.

Nays: Beck, Calvert, Davidson, England, Ford, Jones, Keefe, Mauritz, Roark.

Jim Summarizes Opposition.

Closing for opponents of the Graves bill, Mr. Ferguson said that, insofar as members of the legislature were concerned, the question seemed to be "to find out where you're at."

"What's wrong with the Russell bill?" he asked. "That seems to be the solution of the whole matter. We might go on forever without getting anywhere if one man saying the people want racing and another saying they don't."

"Pass this law, as amended by the Russell bill, and let any county that wants racing can have it, and any that doesn't want it won't have it. If they want to run horses in San Antonio, it won't hurt Dallas. It's a God-given right to bet on a horse race if any one wants to."

"Here's something to give the farmers a chance to make money by raising horses. Give us a racing bill, and then if the people don't approve of racing we can bow to their will. If you fix it so the people can vote on it, then you have fulfilled your obligation as a legislator."

Graves Attacks Jim.

As Ferguson concluded, Representative Graves, closing for proponents, leaped to his feet and shook a finger at Ferguson, sitting in the front row.

"I honor Mr. Ferguson as a man who has been elected governor of the people of Texas," he shouted, his voice quivering. "He is an awful man, a most artful man. But I hope this is his swan song, and we will be relieved hereafter from his baleful influence. He is attempting to lead you astray as he has in the past."

"The bill (the Russell bill) is a camouflage. Let your conscience be your guide. There still is virtue in Texas; and will you sell it for a silver dollar?"

Speakers for the Graves bill included former Representative Henry Kyle of San Marcos; D. A. Frank of Dallas, Mrs. J. M. Glass of San Antonio, and E. P. Panas of Houston.

An important development in the controversy over repeal of the betting law was adoption by the house earlier in the day of an amendment to a relief bill increasing the state share of the tax on wages by 2 1/2 per cent.

The "take" at present is 10 per cent. Under the amendment the state would receive 5 per cent and track operators 7 1/2 per cent of wages. The added share of the state would be used to create a sinking fund to retire relief bonds.

Friends of race wagering were jubilant over adoption of the amendment, saying it would perpetuate racing "as long as there is a relief bond outstanding." The senate would have to accept the amendment to the bill, which appropriates $3,500,000 in relief bonds, before it could become a law.

Drillers on the McCarter-McGlothlin H. A. Barnett No. 1 near Kerens were reported coring a sand about 3400 feet last Wednesday night, after encountering the base of the solid chalk around 3100 feet and the base of the broken series about 3148.

The Davant-McGlothlin Dobbins No. 1 northwest of Corsicana was scheduled to resume drilling Thursday afternoon after a shutdown of a few days while a rock-bit was secured. The bit was reported around 1300 feet engaged with the Austin chalk.

After a drillstem test in the LaRue well in Henderson county returned mud, operations were resumed to core deeper according to reliable tests, and when the formations between 4197 and 4203 proved dry the test was abandoned. It was regarded as definitely condemning the section of the country.

Water trouble is reported engaging operators on the Dodd well in the western part of Henderson county.

A meeting was scheduled Wednesday to determine the fate of the Crawford gas well near the Nigger Creek area at Mexia. The test is reported making considerable gas, with a spray of salt water and almost no oil. It was contended that the test would be deepened and an attempt made to cut off the water and complete the well as a commercial gasser. No reports were available in Corsicana on the meeting of those interested in the test.

ILLEGAL CONCERN HAD ALREADY INTERFERED IN COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 27.—(AP)—The federal government lost a major battle under the National Industrial Recovery Act today with a ruling by Judge John P. Nields that Section 7-A is "unconstitutional and void" as applied to the Weirton Steel Company and its business.

The decision denied the government's plea for an injunction to restrain the company from dealing collectively with its employees through the so-called company union and held that the union is adequate under the act.

"The enactment of section 7-A either is authorized by the commerce clause of the constitution or it is unauthorized and void," Judge Nields ruled. "If it is authorized, it is unconstitutional and void; if it is unauthorized, it is void."

WEEKLY TREATMENTS

ONCE EVERY SEVEN DAYS
Once a week on a special day that week, give yourself the essential beauty treatments that Miss Forbes recommends. She suggests a way of saving money on them.

Make out for yourself a list of the beauty treatments which you should have every week, and then try to set aside part of one day to have them. It does not matter whether you go to a beauty shop or whether you do them yourself. The most important thing is that these be done regularly. Then you will always have that smart and well-cared-for appearance which is the ideal of all advertising writers. In fact, you should look exactly like those lovely ladies in advertising pages.

E. K. Forbes

The first thing is to find a shop which does some type of combination beauty treatments at a special price. You will probably want a shampoo and your hair set and your nails manicured once a week. This is the most usual of the special combinations. Some of them add an eyebrow arch for an extra twenty-five cents or so, an attention you will probably want every few weeks. You can, of course, save this money by doing your eyebrows yourself, but even so you should choose one day to do it and make a habit of it.

If you are getting on a bit you will need a facial. These also come into the specials offered by the beauty shops. But if you must save you may have to do your own facials, in which case the best plan is to choose one day a week, or two or even three days a week to give yourself that attention.

The simplest and quickest home facial is to hold a towel wrung out of hot water over your face, renewing the heat until your skin is quite red. Then rub with cleansing cream, remove this with more hot towels and immediately spread on massage cream. Let this soak into the skin for as long a time as you conveniently can. This saves you the trouble of actual massage motions, and refreshes the face.

M. D. L.—There is an operation performed for correcting bow legs, but it is hardly advisable. After a person has grown to adult years, the impression is that the bones are not plastic, and whatever defects in their formation will have to be considered as permanent ones; yet, if one is to believe that the body is changing constantly, day by day, and even the structural part of the body is completely renewed each year, there should be no reason why bowed legs should not be straightened. Try some of the gymnasium courses for correcting physical defects. All branches of the Y. W. C. A. have well equipped gymnasiums and offer courses of every kind. You would have to be patient and keep at the needful exercise, doing them regularly until you had achieved the necessary improvement.

Mrs. G. G.—Hot or cold compresses used on the eyelids will do much toward refreshing the eyes. Weak boric acid water used to bathe the eyeballs will allay any inflammation. Warm salt water makes a strengthening bath for the eyeballs also. These are the simple remedies to give temporary relief when the eyes are too tired and perhaps inflamed from causes that disturb them temporarily. When there is any real trouble with the eyes, however, you should have a doctor care for it. Nerve strain may also affect the eyes, and by building up the nervous system, the eye shares in the general improvement. Try the soothing compresses and baths, and if your eyes still bother you, have a doctor care for them.

Mrs. R. M. D.—Try massaging the bust with a heavy oil like coconut butter, and you have done all that can be done to fill out the bust by nourishing through the pores.

Former Sheriff Of Smith County Is Dead Again

TYLER, Feb. 26.—(P)—W. A. Strang, 71, was dead today—six days after he had been pronounced "dead" by a physician who five minutes later started his heart and lung action again with an adrenalin injection.

The former sheriff of Smith county died last night. Last Wednesday Dr. Howard Bryant saw the man's heart and lung action stop while he lay on an operating table. An undertaker was summoned and an interne left with the body.

Man Acquitted Of Charge of Assault

LONGVIEW, Feb. 26.—(P)—Elroy Welch, 20, was acquitted last night by a jury which tried him for assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of Bob Moore, owner of a cafe, last September.

Welch admitted shooting Moore, the bullet striking a fountain pen directly over Moore's heart and deflecting.

He said he had gone to the cafe to settle a disagreement between his father, R. O. Welch, and Moore, and when he saw the latter "go into his shirt after a pistol" he fired.
